MRS. GIOVANNA MOYNIHAN — Typing 2, Personal Typing, Stenography

MR. PHILLIP DeCHARLES — Bookkeeping 1, Personal Typing, Typing 2

MISS GERTRUDE O'DONNELL — Office Practice, Personal Typing

BUSINESS ED. — Mrs. Betty Leonard heads the Business Ed. Dept. which is designed to develop a student's clerical skills so that he can efficiently work in an office. Bookkeeping, typing, office practice, and shorthand provided the student with a solid foundation for his future career in the business world.

MRS. JOAN LUFKIN — Typing 1, Transcription

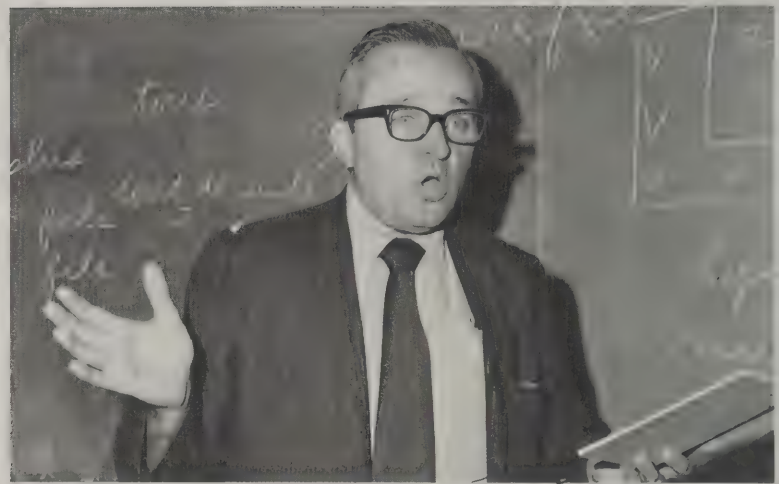

FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

MR. EUGENE RHEAULT — Dept. Head, French 2, 4, 5

MISS ANNA FORTE — Latin 1, Spanish 1

MR. RAYMOND KONGORSKI — French 2

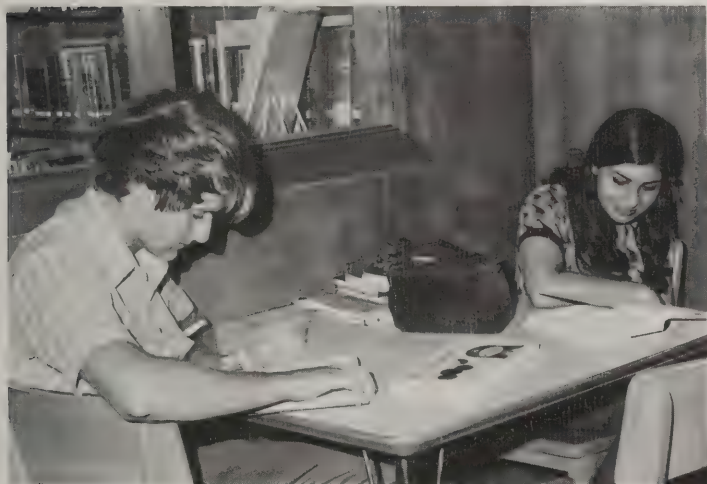

MR. JOHN ARROYO — French 2, Spanish 2

MRS. ELFRIEDE CAVANAGH — 1, 2, 3; Algebra 1

LANGUAGE DEPT. — With the addition of Latin, the foreign language department, headed by Mr. Eugene Rheault, was expanded to include five languages: French, German, Italian, Spanish, and Latin. The foreign language student was given the opportunity to broaden his knowledge of the culture of a foreign society as well as learn the native tongue.

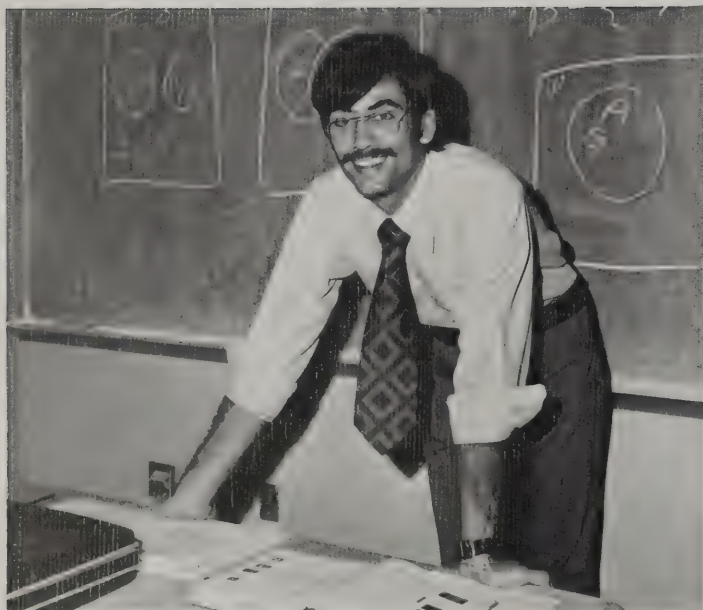

MISS JULIE COSSI — French 2, 3

MISS CLARE BISOL — French 1, Italian 1, 2, 3

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

MR. CHARLES SURDYKA — Algebra 1, 2

MR. FRANCIS LEAHEY — Biology 1, 2

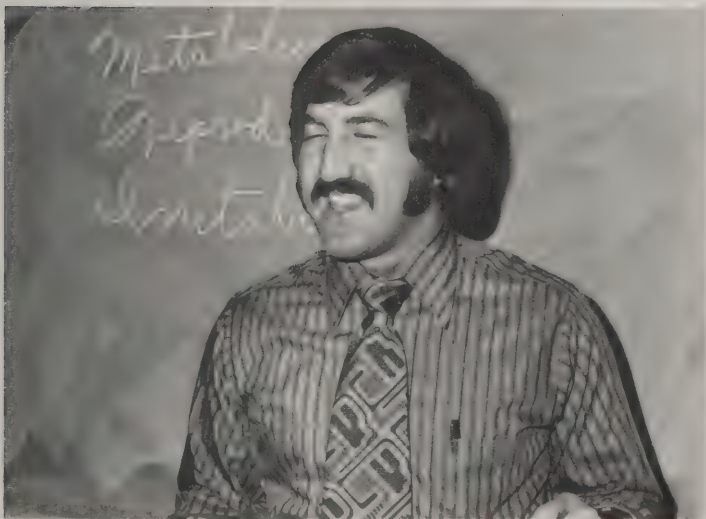

MR. CLARENCE RICHARD — Earth Science, Ecology and Human Behavior

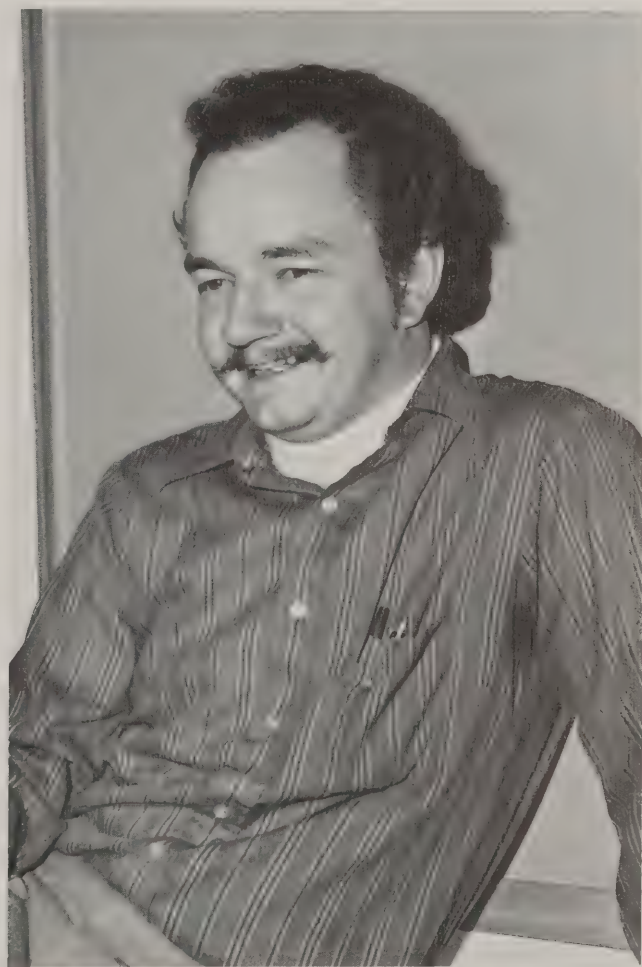

MR. ALBERT CHRISTOPHER — Biology I

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT — A variety of half-year courses were the most exciting innovations at LHS this year. The Science Department, directed by Mr. Michael Cavanaugh, offered new subjects in ecology, human behavior, mankind evolving, and evolution and genetics taught by Mr. Walter Wasiuk and Mr. Clarence Richard. Also new were Biology I and II, and the addition of labs and personal experimentation in descriptive biology.

MR. ALBERT NAVAROLI — Descriptive Biology

MR. WALTER WASIUK — Evolution and Human Behavior, Independent Study Biology, Ecology and Human Behavior

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

MR. JOHN MAGANE — Dept. Head; Economics, U.S. History

MR. GERARD AUBUCHON — Geography

MRS. ELEANOR L'ECUYER — Sociology, Afro-American History

MRS. CAROL DICKHAUT — Sociology, Current Problems

MISS MARGARET IACOBONI — Geography

MR. CHARLES DeFILIPPO — U.S. History, Sociology

MR. KENNETH STEVENS — U.S. History

MR. ROLAND WORTHEN — U.S. History, American Government

MR. DAVID WILLIAMS — Sociology, U.S. History

MR. PAUL BENOIT — U.S. History, World History

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT — This year the social studies department, under the direction of Mr. John Magane, offered a choice of courses designed to provide different levels of study to meet individual needs. Two new in-depth courses, U.S. History I and U.S. History II were added to the curriculum. In other courses, instructors experimented with modern teaching methods such as newspapers, magazines and filmstrips.

MRS. ALICE HEMEON — U.S. History, Anthropology

MR. CARL BAKER — U.S. History

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

MR. WILLIAM HAZELL

MISS PAULINE CICCONE

MRS. PAULA PERLA

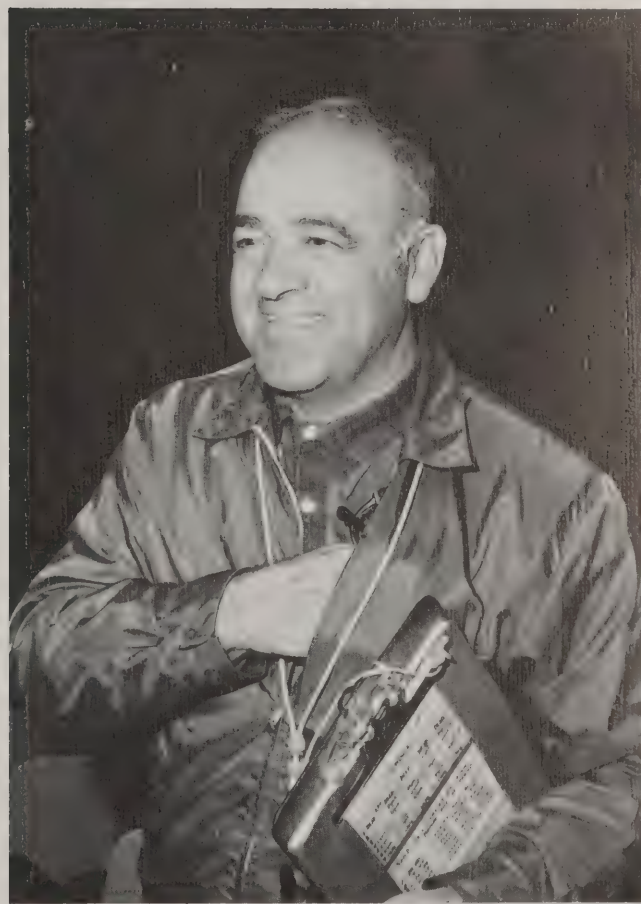

MR. RALPH CAISSE

PHYSICAL EDUCATION — The three days per week sessions in gym offered participation in competitive sports, gymnastics, and health classes. Mr. William Hazell heads this department that attempts to develop physically and mentally sound students.

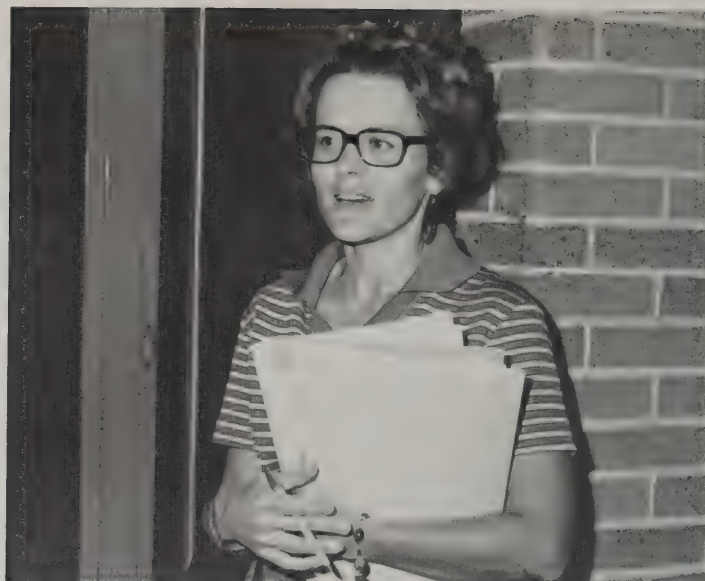

MR. LEON HANNIGAN

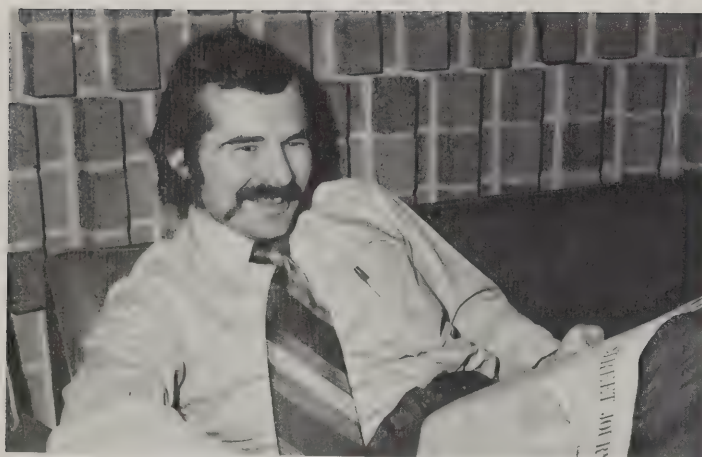

MR. CARMINE PICUCCI

PUBLIC SPEAKING DEPARTMENT

MRS. ELSIE ADAMS — Public Speaking, Theater Arts

MR. PETER LANZA — Public Speaking, Coll. Eng. 2

SPEECH AND DRAMA — With the aid of Mrs. Elise Adams and Mr. Peter Lanza, students were given the opportunity to develop their skills in public speaking, voice control, and quality of diction. A new course in Theater Arts, a study of the mechanics and basics of stage production, was incorporated into the speech and drama program.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

MUSIC — The purpose of the music courses, taught by Mr. Egidio Bisceglia, was to instill a better understanding and fuller appreciation of music. Through participation in the school band, chorus, and music appreciation classes, this goal was achieved.

MR. EGIDIO BISCEGLIA — Music

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

HOME ECONOMICS — Home Economics this year was more than a course in preparing victuals and garments. Miss Poikonen and Mrs. Fetterman concentrated on teaching students home and kitchen management, consumer education, and nutrition. As in previous years, the students made use of the facilities available at the high school.

MISS KAREN POIKONEN — Cooking

MRS. JEAN FETTERMAN — Sewing

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT — In its fifth year at LHS, Distributive Education provided a school day that was divided into study and first-hand work experience. Miss Cynthia Phillips co-ordinated this program that allowed students to pursue careers in retailing and merchandising.

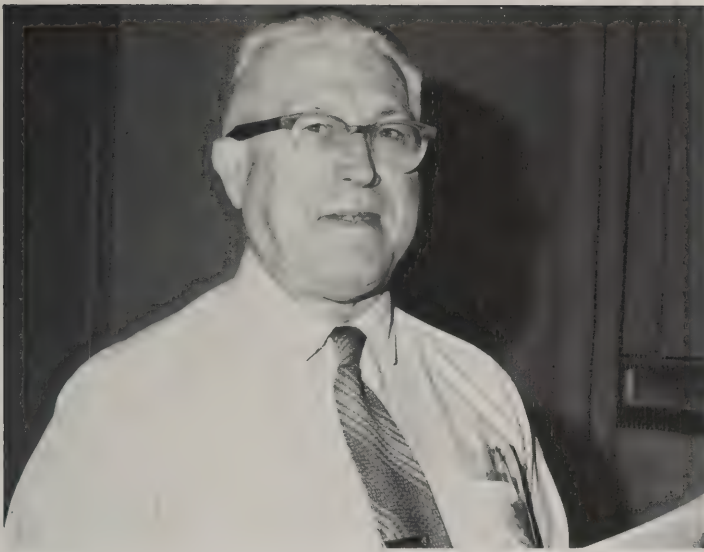

MISS CYNTHIA PHILLIPS — Distributive Education

WORK STUDY

WORK STUDY DEPARTMENT — The two-year-old work study class at LHS had an increased enrollment of eighteen. Students took regular classes in school, while some participated in part-time jobs in this locality. Mr. William Lanciani directed the program.

MR. WILLIAM LANCIANI — Work Study

MR. LEONARD JOHNSON — Technical Drawing

TECHNICAL DRAWING

TECHNICAL DRAWING DEPARTMENT — Mr. Leonard Johnson encouraged technical drawing students to develop their abilities in spatial visualization in order to be more creative in design concepts and in conveying engineering data.

INDUSTRIAL ART

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT — Students enrolled in the industrial arts course were introduced to a wide range of areas essential in our technical world. The boys proved their ability in working with tools, materials, and industrial processes.

MR. FRANK WORTHLEY — Industrial Arts

ART

ART DEPARTMENT — A new course in art appreciation was added to Richard Pelletier's art department. It was concerned with the development of art throughout history and the styles of famous artists. It rounded out a program that otherwise consisted of creative expression through water colors, pastels, oils, charcoal, and clay.

MR. RICHARD PELLETIER — Art

NURSES AIDE

NURSES AIDE DEPARTMENT — The nurses aide program is a head start for experience for those interested in nursing and related health occupations. The involvement of a hospital and nursing home in this project provides students with the practical application of their knowledge.

MISS JUDITH RIGOPOULOS — Health Assistance

MRS. THELMA COUSINS — Developmental Reading

DEVELOPMENTAL READING

DEVELOPMENTAL READING — Developmental reading and study skills is a relatively new course on the secondary level. It is concerned with improving all reading techniques. Reading is a process not a subject; therefore, achievement in all subject areas is the ultimate aim of this course.

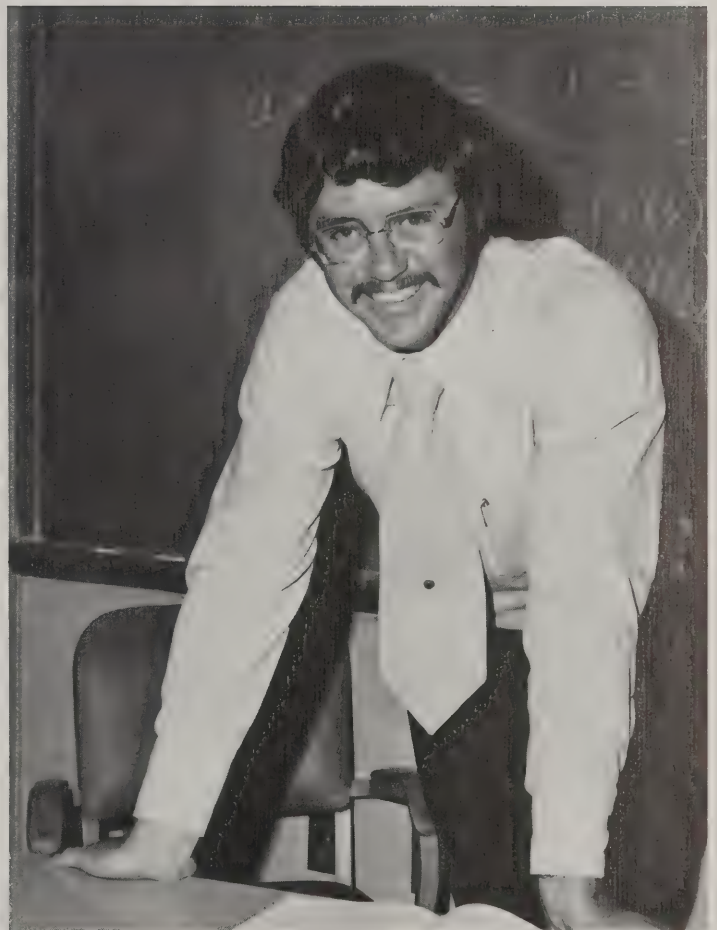

MR. JOHN HATHAWAY — Social Studies, Physical Education

TRADE ACADEMICS

TRADE ACADEMICS DEPARTMENT — Academic subjects were part of the education offered at the Trade High School. On alternate weeks, students spent time in classes studying health, English, mathematics, civics, history, science, and physical education.

MR. RICHARD MAILLOUX — English

MR. JOHN FEELEY — Science, Math

AUTOMOTIVE DEPARTMENT

AUTOMOTIVE DEPARTMENT — Boys were trained in the use of mechanical tools and electronic test equipment necessary for the repair of all foreign and American made cars. Mr. Clifford Gilbert, the automotive supervisor, skillfully taught the students to analyze and perform repairs on registered vehicles belonging to the students and the teachers.

MR. CLIFFORD GILBERT — Auto Mechanics Shop

MR. HOWARD HATCH — Auto Mechanics Related

MR. WILFRED LEBLANC — Auto Body Shop

CO-OP CO-ORDINATOR

CO-OP COORDINATOR — Mr. Robert Archibald heads the Senior Co-op. program in which senior trade students may work in industry and study school shop courses on alternate weeks. The students are placed in their respective trades and checked periodically. With his industrial contracts, Mr. Archibald also handles placement upon graduation and other work-study programs.

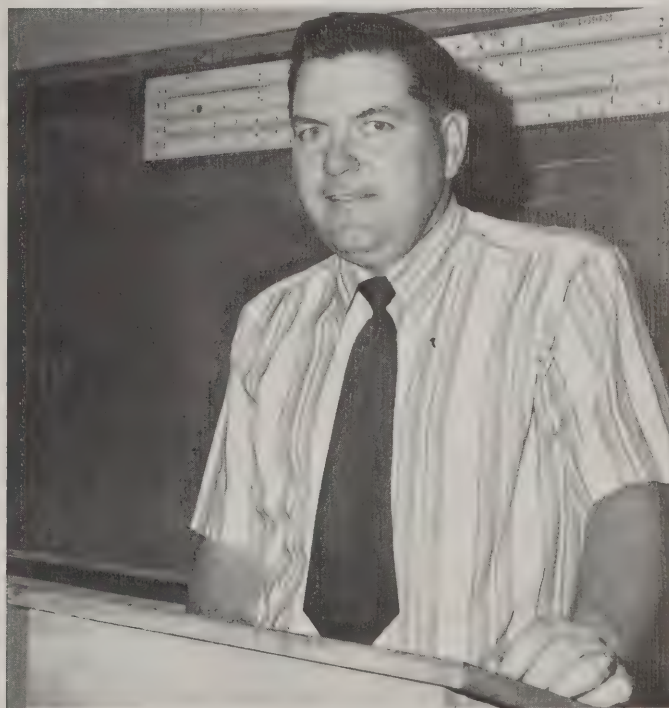

MR. ROBERT ARCHIBALD — Co-Op Co-ordinator

DRAFTING DEPARTMENT

DRAFTING DEPARTMENT — Knowledge pertaining to the basics and complexities of technical drawing was acquired by students with the help of Mr. Robert Hemingway and Mr. Robert Harrington.

MR. ROBERT HEMINGWAY — Drafting Shop

MR. ROBERT HARRINGTON — Drafting Related

CARPENTRY DEPARTMENT

CARPENTRY DEPARTMENT — The goal of the carpentry course was to encourage proficiency in this trade. Mr. Harold Mooney and Mr. Donald Burton taught the first and second year students fundamentals while the third and fourth years were devoted to building a model home, under the direction of Mr. Douglas Clark.

MR. HAROLD MOONEY — Carpentry

MR. DONALD BURTON — Carpentry Related

MR. DOUGLAS CLARK — Carpentry, Home Building Instructor

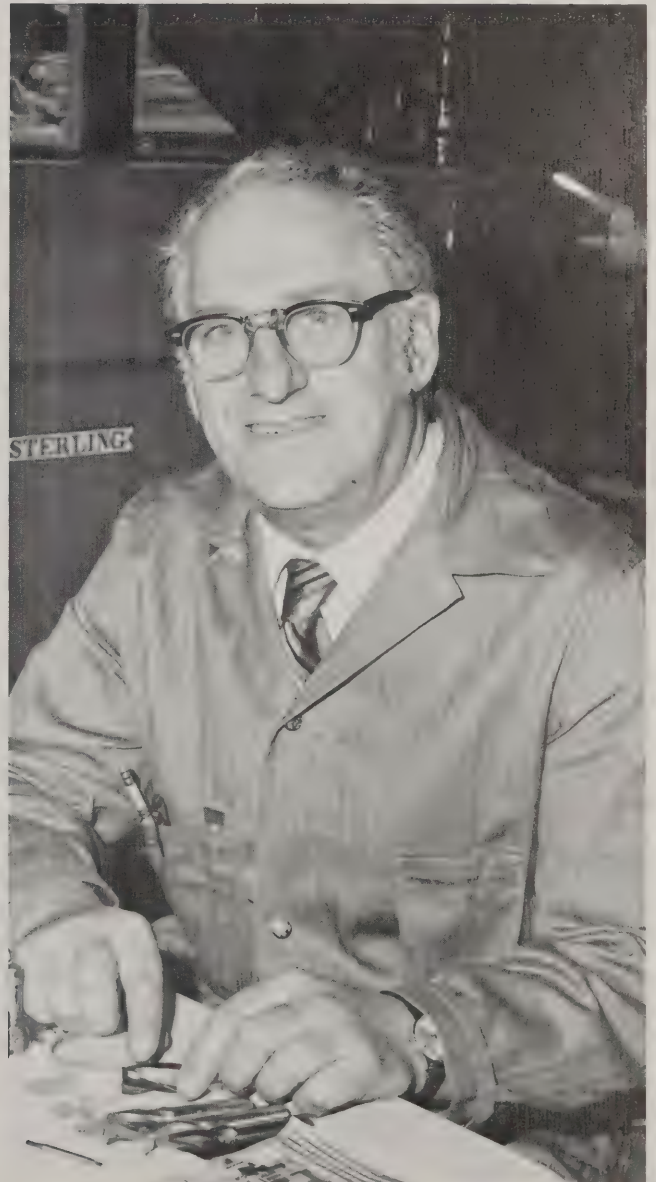

ARMAND FONTAINE — Machine Shop

MACHINE SHOP DEPARTMENT

MACHINE SHOP DEPARTMENT — The art of theory and practice was applied to the machine shop, under the direction of Mr. Algedio Membrino. The course offered the skills of tool and die molding and its related fundamentals.

ALCIDE BELLIVEAU — Machine Related

ALGIDIO MEMBRINO — Machine Shop

ELECTRONICS DEPARTMENT

ELECTRONICS DEPARTMENT — The electronics department of the trade high school conducted a four-year course supervised by Mr. Moryl. The fundamentals and application of the basic direct and alternating current theory were introduced to the first year students and developed more in second year. The junior level consisted of basic electronics and application of knowledge of circuitry, while the senior level was a summarization of the previous three years' work.

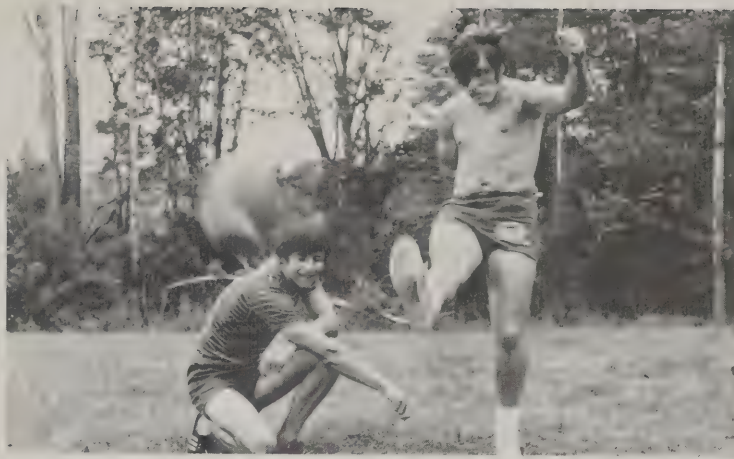

MR. PETER SOBEL — Electronics Related

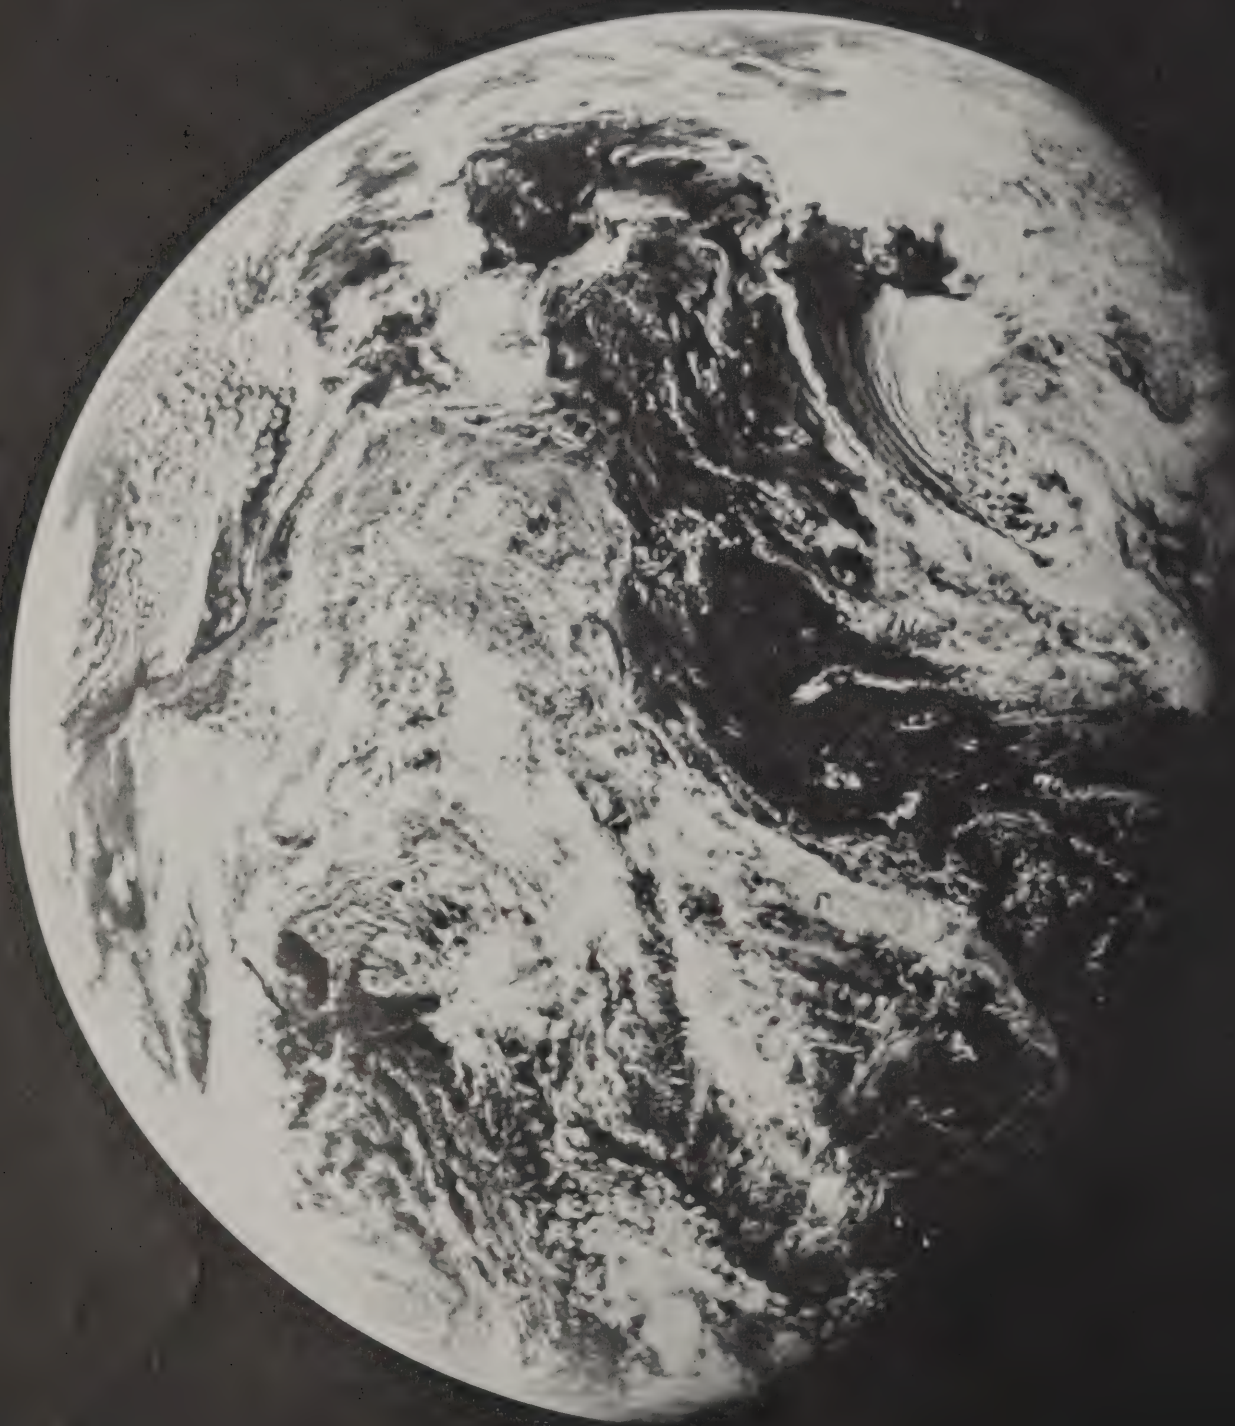

MR. FRANK MORYL — Electronics Shop

MR. CHARLES VALERA — Electronics Related

"Whether a young man or woman goes to one college or another, or into one occupation or another, is not the all-important decision it used to be. All choices are the "right" choices, (for all lead outward) and a career comprises the many different experiences, some planned, some portentous, that one might have."

Old one sits upon the hill and watches those below.
Grey eyes, white hair, knotted flesh;
he speaks of what he knows.

"Man needs dreams to be a man,
and towards those goals must stride.
Without them he is less than dogs;
they keep his mind alive.

"All my lifetime I have dreamed of sailing 'cross the sea.
And now too old and bent am I
to see my dream set free.

"For dreams are bound by man's weak will,
his cowardice, and sense.
The task of living what is real,
true happiness prevents.

"Dreams can be, when man directs,
a vessel to the soul.
A deepening of man's spiritualness;
escape from worldly role.

"All dreams are not meant to be.
Mist and star-dust are their end.
But some dreams should be realized;
These man's humanness defend.

"For what man can be satisfied when ne'er his dreams come true?
Only one with shrunken mind and hopefulness subdued.

"Regret not what is not yours
when effort you have spent.
Feel sorrow when you longed for it and never effort lent.

"Run and catch your living dreams
before they slip away.
Or fade into a senseless pool of beautiful thoughts decayed."

All My Life

I've been looking all my life
But I don't know what for.
I've been running all my life
But I don't know what from.

You and me and fantasy
Try to be reality.
The coffee conversations
Of our present situation.

The words dripping from your eyes
The days skipping by our lives.
A poem forming in my mind
And in the words you will find.

I've been looking all my life
But I don't know what for.
I've been running all my life
But I don't know what from.

What are we trying to say?
What's getting in our way?
Love comes once in awhile
And you can't even smile.

The tears running down your cheek
The beginning of the week.
All life is made from Mondays
All life will end on Mondays.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORS

Mr. Richard Pelletier and Mrs. Judith Rigopoulos have contributed much time and work to our class. As our class advisors they were both indispensable at the activities we sponsored.

Mr. Pelletier gave the junior-senior prom of 1971 a special interest. His art room was always buzzing with prom committee members making preparations for the big day. Mrs. Rigopoulos was also active making certain everything ran smoothly the night of the prom.

The Thanksgiving Rally would never have been the same without the person who got everybody together — Mrs. Rigopoulos. Mr. Pelletier was active in art class with the drawing of Turkey Day posters.

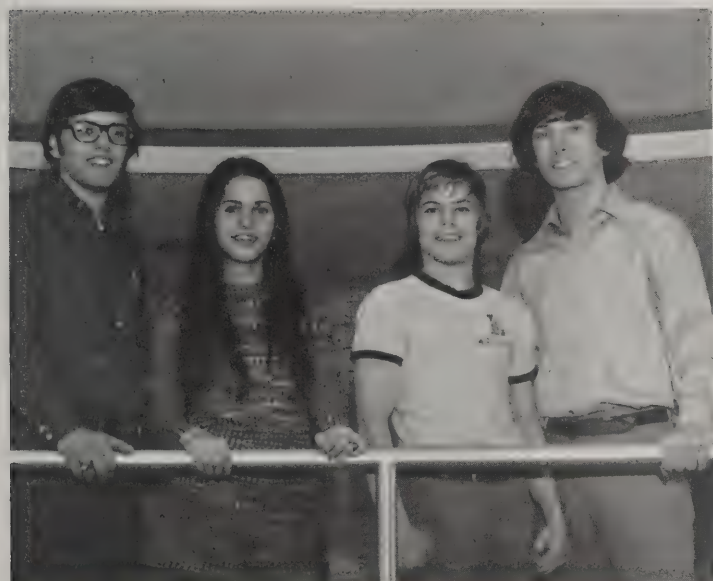

Other activities that our advisors assisted us in were two "Rent-a-Kid-days," the spaghetti supper, the senior class play, the chicken barbecue, and finally graduation preparations.

Both Mr. Pelletier and Mrs. Rigopoulos have become a part of our class, and we hope to see them at our class reunions.

Let me be free
Let me soar through the whiteness of clouds.
never touching bottom.
Let no outstretched arms hold me down.
Chaining me to one spot of earth.
Let me run through fields with my bare feet loving the earth and drinking all its goodness into my soul,
And let me fall down laughing into a bed
of flowers.
As the walls of my prison close in around me
I can hear my voice, faint and distant, shouting in my ear, "I'm free! Oh, God,
I'm free!"

ACTIVITIES

THANKSGIVING RALLY

On November 24, 1971, the annual Thanksgiving rally was put on by the girls of the class of '72 and the cheerleaders. An hour and a half of skits, a simulated football game, jokes, and a cheering crowd help to "psyche" up the players for the 88th traditional game competition.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Trade High School and LHS cooperated to present A Man for All Seasons, a play by Robert Bolt. Under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Adams, and Cindy and Debby Pirro, student directors, the cast enacted the story of the life of the Lord Chancellor Thomas More and his fate in a confused and charging society. More's adherence to his principles and his death on the scaffold after a mock trial are relevant to today's audience, and were impressively brought home to those who attended.

DECA FASHION SHOW

"COLOR YOUR WORLD"

"Color your World" was this year's fashion show presented by the Deca Club. Participation in the production involved the entire club; it was both a learning and a fun experience. Students and teachers modeled clothes from two boutiques in our area, and the mod fashions were shown to the hard rock sound of "Zeek's Department." After the show was completed, the audience and participants danced on stage and in the aisles.

SENIOR CLASS WRAP-IN

In the spirit of Christmas, the class of '72 held a "Wrap-In" for under privileged children. Toys were donated by area businesses or by the students themselves, and one entire evening was devoted to wrapping them. Barbara Zomlefer and Betsy Barnett co-ordinated the wrap-in.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

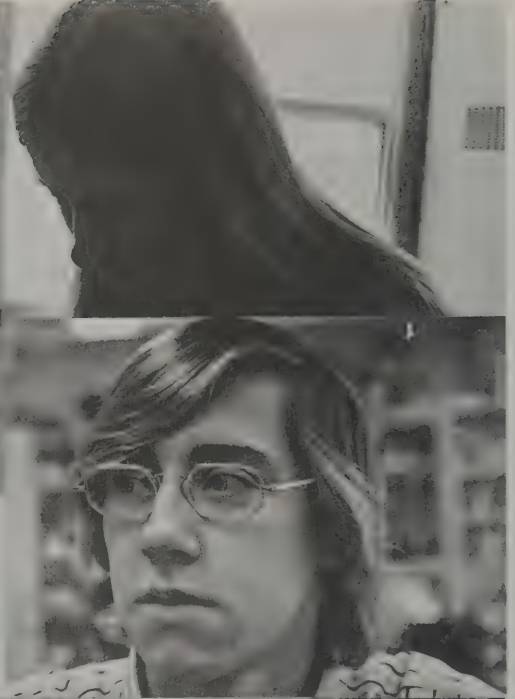

Beacuse it would be the class of '72's last year at LHS, activities as a whole class were stressed. After the Thanksgiving Rally in the LHS gym, every student was invited to a senior class "get together" at the Leominster Youth Center. Seniors made food, and it was quickly eaten. Later folk and piano music was played. Some students took advantage of the recreation equipment, while others explored the center.

Walking/Good-bye

Walking,
Walking,
Walking.

Funny how you realize
What words really mean
When you're walking

Good-bye

is such a lonely word and you know I've heard it so many times, I'm beginning to think it was made just for me!

Painted sails and fairy tales have all been a part of my life.
But now I see
Cut down trees and minds not free. Oh, Why must you say "Good-bye?"

I wonder if you know
I'm out here walking?
I've spent so many hours talking-to no one
Sometimes its better that way
cause no-one says
"good-bye"

God, if you hear me, I've got something to say-

Good-bye!

Good-bye is such a lonely word
but it's the only word

I hear

Good-bye is such a lonely word
but not the only word

I fear.

FIDDLER ON THE ROOF

On March 3rd and 4th, Leominster High presented Joseph Stein's "Fiddler On The Roof" to capacity crowds. Dramatic direction came from Mr. Peter Lanza and student directors: Cindy Pirro and Laurie Farber. Musical direction was provided by Mr. Egidio Bisceglia. Laughter and tears were experienced by the audience as the moving story of Jews in Russia was enacted on the LHS stage.

GYM SHOW

The 5th Annual Physical Education Exhibition was presented to the public on April 7th. Performances on various gymnastic equipment were given by members of the LHS student body. The large attendance of this event made it necessary for people to stand along the sides of the gymnasium, thus making it impossible to hold the Obstacle Course at that time.

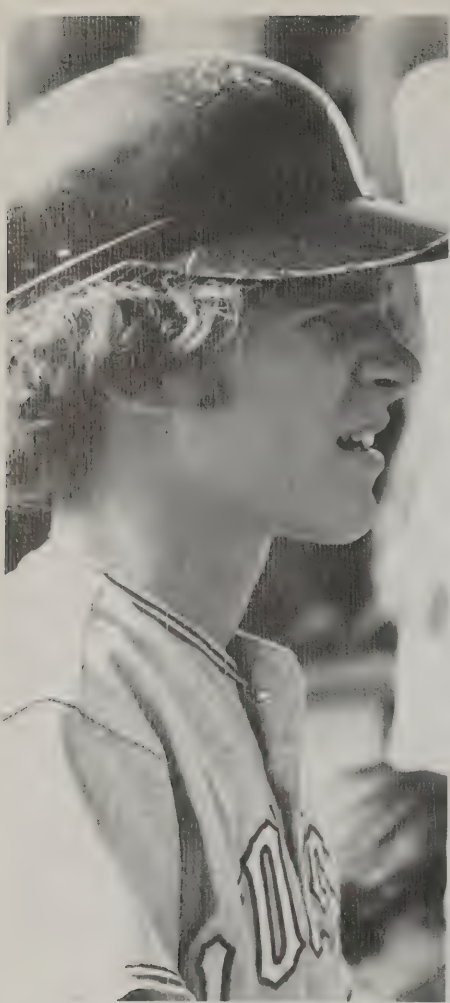

CHICKEN BARBECUE

The 3rd Annual Chicken Barbecue was held in the LHS cafeteria on April 25th. It was one of the last class run functions before graduation and many of the class members pitched in to prepare food, wait on tables, entertain, and clean up. Many others were involved in publicity and organizational work before the 25th. For the many people who attended this function it was a rare and enjoyable experience.

102nd ANNUAL GRADUATION EXERCISES

Members of the Class of '72 met for the last time June 4th at Doyle Field for the 102nd commencement. Speeches on the theme of "I AM I AND YOU ARE YOU" were delivered by Jonathan Leonard, James Weitzner, Kathryn Bisceglia, and Alejandro Lopez. Diplomas were handed out by Mayor Ralph Crossman and Principal Aldrich Cousins after the singing of the class song "The Times They Are A-Changing."
